It has been my pleasure getting to know our Native Cougs this academic year! We have had so many memorable events and activities that turned out great. Spring term has been full of learning opportunities that ranged from Finding Summer Jobs and Internships to Healthy Relationships, Healthy Alcohol Consumption, Test Anxiety and Coping, and even Moccasin Making.

We invited Jess Lawrence, one of our Student Ambassadors, to share her study abroad experience in Switzerland and hope to see more Native Cougs continue to study abroad! If you have questions or are interested in finding out what your options are, please contact me. I would love to help you explore the world.

Mom’s weekend was a hit. Each mom that attended was presented with an orchid corsage and we provided a homemade waffle bar with all the toppings. As we start to wrap up the semester, we honored our graduates and student mentors at Native American Recognition Night in the Lewis Alumni Center. That was my first time visiting there and if you have not checked it out yet, I would recommend it. Our last event for the term was our Friday Matinee where we watched “Star Wars: The Force Awakens” and snacked on popcorn.

In addition to the events and activities on campus, our center has summer job and internship opportunities posted on the bulletin board and online on our Internship Page. If you have not made concrete summer plans, please check out the opportunities that are available. They range from local venues to Washington D.C.

If you have suggestions for activities, food, or events that you would like to see happen for the 2016-2017 academic year, please let us know. We value your input and want to provide our students with the best support possible.

Sincerely,

Kay Kay
