

focus on Nursing

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY

Feature

Federal study will research impacts of 12-hour shifts on nurses' performance and personal safety

READ MORE

GIVE TO NURSING

Subscribe

Sign up to receive

Stay Connected

Subscribe to our

Alumni

Change of address?

future issues of Focus on Nursing E-Magazine or Focus on Nursing print magazine.

newsfeed online and receive a notification as news and features are published.

Marriage? New job? Please let us know by updating your record.

A Message from Dean Joyce Griffin-Sobel

One of the goals in our Strategic Plan is to increase not only the amount of research being conducted, but also to dramatically increase support for faculty to do that research.

READ MORE OF THE DEAN'S MESSAGE

The 51st Western Institute of Nursing research conference

Mid-April saw some 800 nurse scientists, nursing faculty and administrators, graduate students, and executives in Spokane for the 51st annual Western Institute of Nursing research conference.

READ MORE ABOUT WIN

WSU smart-home research expanding

Faculty researchers in nursing, computer science, and psychology have been testing the technology and processes at a retirement community in Spokane, in a project involving subjects who have a chronic illness.

READ MORE ABOUT THE EXPANSION

Research roundup

WSU College of Nursing grant and contract award summary, January 1 – December 31, 2017

READ MORE ABOUT RESEARCH

WSU graduates largest DNP class ever

Most of those 33 students will become family nurse practitioners, psychiatric-mental health nurse practitioners, or will take on leadership roles in public health, public policy, or health care administration.

READ ABOUT THEIR DNP PROJECTS

Focus on faculty & staff

Dr. Celestina Barbosa-Leiker, associate dean for research and associate professor, and her research team had two studies funded to examine the transition from pregnancy to parenthood in women who are in treatment for an opioid use disorder, and for women who use cannabis during pregnancy.

READ MORE ABOUT FACULTY & STAFF

Sam and Rosemary Selinger's gift supports project with Second Harvest

Rosemary and Samuel Selinger moved to Spokane in 1978, and if there's one thing they've learned about their adopted hometown, they say, it's this: small groups of people can make a difference.

READ MORE

Alumni class notes

Find out what your classmates and/or other graduates are up to.

READ CLASS NOTES

Nominate a notable nursing grad

As we approach our 50th anniversary, the College of Nursing is seeking notable grads to highlight in the coming year. Nominate your classmates, your colleagues, or yourself.

NOMINATE A GRAD

Not seeing the WSU College of Nursing on Facebook?

The social platform's newest adjustments may have made it hard for you to see our page, but it's a simple fix. Go to our page (<https://www.facebook.com/WSUCollegeOfNursing/>), and if you haven't followed us yet, click that button. Then hover over "Following" and make sure "See First" is checked. That's it!

CONNECT

Nursing

Short Takes

WSU doctoral student named a King Hussein Scholar at the Mayo Clinic

Pictures of Nursing: The Zwerdling Postcard Collection to be exhibited at the WSU College of Nursing

WSU College of Nursing introduces a graduate certificate in public health

UPCOMING EVENTS

- Mar 21 BSN Info Night WSU College of Nursing
Spokane WA

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF NURSING | PO Box 1495, Spokane, WA
99210 | (509) 324-7360 | nursing.wsu.edu

