Farm News

It's officially onion season on the farm!! We've been working hard to get all these yellow onions out of the field where they begin the curing process. We then move to either the greenhouse or barn to further dry before boxing for storage and future sales.

We have the last of the Walla Walla Sweets as well as red shallots and yellow onions for sale at the Friday farm stand. The rains are coming soon and it's time to get these crops out of the field!!
