Farm News

Wow, I thought last week was stressful! If you're wondering about the pumpkins, be assured they are in a safe place. This year has continued to be on the cool side and today's snow and cold temperatures are not what any of us are used to in October. After surviving the first frosts last week we changed tactics and moved all ripe pumpkins, winter squash, and onions to the heated barn and greenhouse for protection until Saturday's big event.

The farm will be open for the afternoon sale on Friday and have some pumpkins to grab if you are ready along with all the other fall produce. Our crew of students and volunteers will return the pumpkins back to the field Friday in time for the Saturday Festival. Please let everyone know that Saturday's event is still on schedule.

We will still be taking special orders for Friday and Oct 18th with will most likely be our last Friday sale.

Here's what we have for bulk items with prices:

Spaghetti Squash: $1.25/#

Acorn, Delicata, Sugar Dumpling: $1.75/#

Yellow Onions: $1.60/#

Huckleberry Gold Potatoes and Russets: $1.50/#

Shallots: $3.50/#

Red and Chioggia Beets: $1.50/#

10 Pound minimum order for each crop for these prices.

Email Brad with your order.
