The W.S.C. Alumni Association closes another year with the sincere wish for Victory as shown by the drum majorettes in their V for Victory formation.
The Executive Corner...
By EDNA M. SIMMONS, Editor

This is the last issue of the Alumni POWWOW for this year, and the last issue forever to be written by my hand. I do hope that the readers of the magazine have enjoyed reading it just as much as I've enjoyed writing the articles.

As you all probably know, by action of the Associated Students in May, 1934, there is assessed against each student while enrolled in college, fifty cents per semester as an alumni fee. The payment of this fee entitles the student, upon graduation, to a Life Membership in the Alumni Association. This membership entitles the holder to a year's subscription to the POWWOW, and to the right to take part in all alumni activities, to exercise the right of franchise in alumni matters, and otherwise participate in the rights and benefits incident to membership in the organization.

The outlook for next year is bleak. The Trust Fund, which has been established and contributed to year after year in the hopes that some day it will be able to carry the financial load of the Alumni Association, is still in its infancy. Therefore, official action was taken at the meeting of the Board of Directors on May 21, to close down the office, and next year to hire a student a few hours per week to keep up the changes of address of the alumni. Do keep those addresses and news notes coming in.

Cougars In the Service...

The promotion of Captain Hilmer L. Axling, '32, to the rank of major was announced recently at the infantry school at Fort Benning where he is an instructor in anti-tank gunnery on the school's faculty. Major Axling received his first commission as a second lieutenant in the reserve in June, 1932. Before going on active duty, he was for seven years the assistant county agriculture agent at Spokane, Washington, for the Agriculture Extension service of the United States Department of Agriculture. Major Axling was called to active duty with the army in June, 1941 as a first lieutenant and was sent to the Infantry school to attend the Rifle and Heavy Weapons Company Officers’ course before being assigned as an instructor on the school's faculty. The new major was promoted to captain in May, 1942 and his promotion to major was dated February 20, 1943. He is residing with his wife and two sons at 1922 Twelfth Street, Columbus, Georgia.

America's fighting men at Guadalcanal proved they can outfight, outwit, and outshoot the Japs, declared Major "Pat" Hanley, '21, of the Marines, who knows because he was there. He says our team is ahead. "I would have preferred to stay with my gang until we had finished the job we were doing so well. Now I'm to help organize new Marine units to go back to the Pacific and I'm eager to return with them." Major Hanley found out about the snipers on the first night in the lines. The boys hadn't yet learned to keep their heads down, nor had the officers. "I got an early lesson," he grinned while talking to reporters upon his return to Boston on a furlough. "I was talking with another officer, with no more than three feet between us, when we heard that buzz. The bullet zinged between us and buried itself in a bank. We heard the crack of the rifle after it hit. I found that my muscular coordination was better than when I was an athlete. We had both gone down instinctively. After a few of those the boys all learned it wasn't a sign of timidity to duck at such a sound, or leap for the dugouts when "Louis the Louse" (Jap planes) came over."

First Lieutenant Rex Orr Scott, '34, is at the Post Gymnasium, Scott Field, Illinois, where he is assistant director of physical training. He was commissioned Second Lieutenant at Scott Field August 5, 1942. His home address is 327 Lakeside, Seattle. Ernest Lawrence Henkel, '36, is now a captain in the Veterinary Corps, U. S. Army Forces, and is stationed at the Station Hospital, Army Air Base, Pocatello, Idaho. He was called to active duty from the reserve corps from Enumclaw, Washington August 1, 1942.

Colonel Willis Glenn Cronk, '23, is in North Africa serving as commander of an armored group. His home address is R. F. D., Elberton, Washington where his wife (Eveline H. Swanson, '23) and daughter, Sally, live. Nathan A. Bickford is a Lieutenant serving at 798 Engineer's Forestry Company, Camp Clairborne, Louisiana.

Laird H. Haynes, '36, is in the R. C. A. F. and his present address is A. C. 2 Haynes, L. H., R197708 Course 76 Flight-E, No. 4 I.T.S. R.C.A.F., Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. Ensign Norman M. Voldseth, '40, was inducted at Fort Schuyler, Bronx, New York, New York and is now at the Naval Training School (Roder), Crift Lab., Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass. His home address is Lenep, Montana. Warren R. Hokenstad, '40, is an Ensign, U.S.N.R., and is stationed at Lakehurst, New Jersey, where he is a Naval Aviator, in Squadron 12, U.S.N.A.S. A "hello" came to Dr. Webster along with the new address of Major Rexford D. McClure, '30, who is in the Medical Corps at the 50th General Hospital, Camp Carson, Colorado. His home address is 2105 Barge, Yakima, Washington. Lieutenant Charles G. Picetti, '42, has a new address: c/o Training Center, 922 Eng. Avn. Regt., Geiger Field, Spokane, Washington.
Dear Miss Simmons:

I just received the last issue of the POW-WOW. I was, of course, more than glad to get it and read the "low down" on more of us cougars. I get the "Evergreen" regularly and really enjoy it also. It happens that I am the only WSC fellow in our class.

Now to bring things up-to-date on my training. I enlisted in January, 1942, but was put in the Air Corps Reserve and was not called until October 18, 1942. At that time I reported to Seattle and was sent to Kelly Field, Texas. There I was classified as pilot and took my pre-flight training. That was completed in February, 1943 and the class was sent to Hicks Field at Fort Worth, Texas for primary flying.

In April we finished at Hicks and were sent to Major's Field at Greenville, Texas, for basic flying where I am at present. This training, like training in all services, is no snap. So far, we have lost nearly 60 per cent of our class and a few more will go before we are finished.

Here's hoping I can make it O.K. and get out with more of our flying Cougars to get this job finished so we can be back and rally at more of O. E. "Babe's" football games.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Miss Simmons:

Please change the mailing address for my subscription to the POWWOW to:
Captain E. R. Hanson
Engineer Board
Fort Belvoir, Virginia

My present duty is Chief, Motion Picture Branch. How about more news of the class of '37, which must by now be scattered thinly over the two hemispheres? Certainly we do look forward to reading each issue of your magazine.

Sincerely,
E. R. HANSON, '37

Dear Miss Simmons:

Some one sent me the April POWWOW and whoever it was I sure wish to thank them for doing so. Looking over the list of servicemen I don't know any of the youngsters, but find on the list several of my old friends . . .

I note up there in the President's Corner that we are "students for four years but only alumni for forty." Well, I have been an alumnus for 33 years and apparently haven't long to go. I was a student of the college for much more than four years, having put in three years in the Elementary Department before entering the College, so that ought to give me about 30 years more. Well, here is hoping.

Was mighty glad to get that news about Brigadier General Lowell W. Rooks, x'18. Had been wondering about Lowell, knowing that he was in the war somewhere. Hope he comes thru all "ok" and is a full general when it is all over.

Another of our WSC friends is a way up at the top in his war, and I am not sure where he is now but I believe somewhere in the North Africa. That is Jeff Fulton, '07. I think Jeff is also now a Brig. General. Jeff is now in his fourth war, not including the swimmishes with the regulars at Fort Wright, Spokane. Jeff was in uniform, but never got out of the country during the Spanish American War, was later in the Philippines and was raised to a Colonel in the First World War.

Was sorry to hear of the passing of my old friend, Robert C. McCroskey, '06, even tho I haven't seen Bob since he left the college. Another of the old timers that you didn't mention that recently passed away was Earl G. Clemens, '07. Earl died at Coolidge, Arizona, about three months ago . . . He left three fine boys, two in the Army, one married and in business near Coolidge.

I note that you list under Newly Lost, Ernest Reno Niebel, '05. Well, I can't give the exact date, but the Denver Post carried an item telling about Niebel being killed in an auto wreck in or near Denver and the time about July, 1941.

You list under Long Lost—Dr. Joseph Baddeley, '08. Our friend, Jo, died in Athena, Oregon, about 23 years ago . . . Jo probably held one world's record, having won an athletic emblem in track, having won the 100 yard dash in the slowest time in any track meet. All the other runners stayed at the post and Jo ran thru alone and was judged the winner.

The Cougars in the service are sure doing wonders but it is sad to see some of the finest boys in the world go down for such unnecessary a thing as war. Let's hope that this war is the last. If we hadn't lost the "peace" the last time, this would not of happened.

I have one son that has been doing his part. He is a Captain in the Marines and has been on an advanced pilot training in the South Pacific for 15 months. He was in the Samoan Islands, Ellice Islands, New Caldonia, New Guinea, Solomon, and Santa Cruz. He picked up some mosquito borne germs of some kind and is now convalescing in California after being home for 30 days on sick leave. He is now fine and dandy and will soon be back on active duty.

Well, this is all for this time. Greetings to all the old timers at W.S.C.

W.S.C. is now affiliated in nursing education with the Deaconess and St. Luke's hospitals in Spokane and with Eastern State hospital at Medical Lake, as well as with the Spokane county health department. Miss Helen M. Platt, director of nursing education, announced several girls have finished their preclinical work and are entering schools of nursing.

Dean Paul H. Landis, who has been on a six months' leave of absence, has returned to his duties as head of the graduate school. Dean Landis was called to Washington, D. C., to serve as principal administrative officer of the Office of Agricultural War Relations. He was with that office until February 7 when he went to Denver to direct the migration of agricultural workers in the western states.

POWWOW, June, 1943
KWSC . . .
By KENNETH YEEND, '34, Director

"Wanted a male voice"—this was the plea that went out from KWSC near the end of the spring semester. The students announcing were slated to go into some branch of the armed forces and the number of male voices available for summer work was inadequate. The ranks left open by the following persons had to be filled: Dick Ross of Coffee Pot Parade fame lost to the Marines; Elwood Shemwell heard on agricultural broadcasts, called to active service with U. S. Army; Art MacKelvie of casanova fame, and designs were made as a class project in architectural engineering under the direction of Harry C. Weller.

The building program was outlined by Kenneth Yeend. Radio students and faculty are hopeful that this project will become a reality in 1923 with a B. S. degree but returned to WSC to take graduate work from 1928 to 1930 at which time he was granted his master's degree in agriculture.

Immediately following his graduation in 1923 he farmed for two years at Lake Center, Washington. Then for three years he taught Smith-Hughes agriculture at Sequim, Washington. Receiving his master's degree opened up another position, this time at the college where he taught Farm Management from 1930 to 1934.

Since that time, he has served with the United States Department of the Interior as State Land Use Planning Consultant and with the United States Department of Agriculture as State Land Use Planning Specialist. At the present time he is the State Representative of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

In 1924 he was married to Miss Helen L. Schwartz who was graduated from Washington State College with the class of 1922. They have four children. Both Mr. and Mrs. Landerholm recently bought Life Memberships in the Alumni Association.

Mrs. Earl Griffith (Eileen Hudson) and Dorothy A. Colpitts have now moved to 511 West Comstock, Seattle. Jeanne Hall sent in her new address, 1590 Sunset Street, San Francisco, California. She is now doing her internship at the Stanford Hospital for Physical Therapy.

Edwin F. Landerholm was graduated in 1923 with a B. S. degree but returned to WSC to take graduate work from 1928 to 1930 at which time he was granted his master's degree in agriculture.

Campus Tidbits

Establishment of a unit of the Army specialized training program at Washington State College for 600 specially selected soldiers was announced May 21 at the Headquarters of Major General Kenyon A. Joyce, Commanding General of the Ninth Service Command at Fort Douglas, Utah. A unit of 400 students will receive basic phase engineering instructions; the other 200 will be advanced engineering students. Both classes will last approximately 12 weeks. Soldiers will arrive between June 1 and June 14. The unit at Washington State is the thirteenth at eleven institutions in the Ninth Service Command for the training of specialists in various types of technical work required by the modern Army.

Hector G. McDonald, '25, assistant professor of animal husbandry since 1936, has announced his resignation, effective as of July 1, in order to permit him to operate an 800-acre Canadian farm in which he and his wife have an interest. Following his graduation from WSC he received a master's degree in animal breeding from Iowa State College. He served here four years as extension animal husbandryman and for three years was in specialized work with the Intermediate Credit bank, Spokane.

when it has been ascertained as to the definite number enrolled as students. However, there will be some kind of a publication, although in a curtailed form.

Even though I am closing the Alumni office and leaving Pullman, my interest and loyalty to the Alumni Association and the State College will never end. After the war is over and we have started Homecoming and Alumni Day Reunions, I hope to return to the campus and meet in person the many alumni friends with whom I've corresponded for the last two years. Until then, I remain Faithfully yours, Edna Simmons

Frances Handy is with the Mass. Mutual Life Insurance Company in Seattle, and Jean Maxwell is also in Seattle working as a secretary for the United States Engineers.

Marriages

Miss Myrtle Phillips, '13, was married to Mr. George R. Isaman of Chewelah the latter part of May. Only close relatives of both families witnessed the ceremony. After a short visit in Lewiston and Pullman, Mr. and Mrs. Isaman are at home at N 502 Second, Chewelah. The bride is a retired teacher and Mr. Isaman, a graduate of the University of Idaho, has been Smith-Hughes instructor in Chewelah for the last 15 years. He has two sons in the service, both serving in the south Pacific.

The marriage of Miss Frances Louise Peck to James M. Berkey, '31, took place May 1 in Salem, Oregon. The bride is a graduate of Grinnell College, Iowa, where her father was professor of history. She is a former Pickering fellow at Harvard college observatory, and holds a Diploma d'École from the Villa Collina Ricente, center for international studies in Florence, Italy. For 3½ years she was researcher on the New York editorial staffs of the Architectural Forum, Life and Fortune magazines. Last year, she completed an editorial research assignment on the staff of the northwestern regional council, whose head quarters are at Portland. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Mr. Berkey holds degrees in architecture from WSC and U. of W. He did graduate work in city planning at Harvard university, and at Cranbrook Academy of Art, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan. At the latter school he held a scholarship for study under Eliel Saarinen, internationally famous architect and city planner. For several years, Mr. Berkey practiced architecture in Spokane, but for the last two years has been planning engineer of the Washington state planning council, with headquarters in Olympia. He is now in the armed forces and assigned to the army specialization training unit at Oregon State College, where he is receiving intensive training in civil engineering.

After announcing that the address of Miss Lelia Grahame Rufard, '42, was lost, we heard she is now Mrs. Edward J. Moe and is living at 4203 Brooklyn Avenue, Seattle, Washington. She is continuing her work in the United States Engineer's Office there. Mr. Stanley A. Smith, Head, Department of Architectural Engineering, informed us that Mrs. Moe was working for the United States Engineers in Honolulu on December 7, 1941. She probably could tell us a few things about this war.

Bernadine Royer Johnson, '36, became the bride of Lieutenant Commander Walter L. Kelsey, U. S. N. R., at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. E. Royer, Spokane. Lieutenant Commander Kelsey, a doctor in pre-army life and now in the medical branch of the army, has been transferred from Farragut, Idaho to San Francisco. Mrs. Kelsey has been doing her bit as a nurses' aide with the Red Cross.

Lieutenant Arthur Jack Sackville-West Jr., '42, and his bride, the former Miss Dorothy Smith of Fort Worth, Texas, were married, April 10 in Fort Worth. Jack is with the Second Air Force stationed at Fort George Wright, Spokane. They are at home at S. 1220 Maple, Spokane.

Miss Laura Jean Laufrizien, '41, was married recently to Lieutenant Edward R. Mar­ tin of Milton, Oregon. Both families witnessed the ceremony. After a short visit in Portland, the couple are making their home in Milton and the University of Oregon. Until his enlistment he was with the Utah Canning company as an entomologist. He graduated recently as a bombardier at the Victorville Flying school, California.

Ruth Cooper, '43, and George Wegsteen, x'42, were married in Everett last month upon George's graduation from Fort Ben­ ning, Georgia with a second lieutenant's rating in the infantry. Their present ad­ dress is 1323 E. Boy Drive, Olympia, Wash­ ington while George is stationed at Head­ quarters, Fort Lewis.

Dr. Fred R. Krauel, '38, and the former Miss Mary Frances Cibulka, Portland, Ore­ gon, were married March 6. Mrs. Krauel attended the University of Portland, and was graduated from St. Vincent's School of Nursing in Portland. Dr. Krauel received his M. D. degree from the North Pacific Dental college after receiving his first degree from WSC in 1938. The couple are making their home in Portland until Dr. Krauel, who has a reserve commission in the army, is called to duty. At a beautiful ceremony June Cornelius, x'44, was married to George Duby, '42, April 10 in the Congressional Church, Pullman. Mr. Duby received his Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree May 24 at WSC. Mrs. Duby has been head drum majorette at WSC for the last three years and was national champion while in high school at Van­ couver, her home town. Mr. and Mrs. Duby are now living in Sunnys, Washington.

A wedding of interest in eastern Wash­ ington was that of Miss Marion Robins­ ton, '38, to Lieutenant Ray Wuesthoff, which took place April 9 in the Chewelah Metho­ dist church. Like so many of our weddings, plans for the double ring ceremony were hurriedly made. The bride, a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority, has taught at Chewelah since her graduation. Lt. Wuest­ hoff has his high school education in Che­ welah and before enlisting in the army was affiliated with the Junior Chamber of Com­ merce as vice-president and secretary. He has returned from foreign service and now is attached to the air depot and is stationed
